Lowell Davis Egg Holders

I was collecting eggs in the hen house today and it brought back to memories of the series of egg holders that I did with Schmid. I thought I would share them with you in this week's blog. They still come up for sale occasionally and make a nice addition to any collection of my art. Some folks tell me they actually use them to hold their eggs at breakfast!

Your friend!

Lowell Davis Egg Holders

Schmid did a series of six Lowell Davis Egg Holders featuring different birds: African Goose, Chicken, Duck, Guinea, Pigeon and Turkey. Originally these egg holders came with porcelain eggs but these often got separated from the holders or were broken.
